

CONVERDAN

ENGINEERING

A green line graphic that starts with a small open circle on the left, extends horizontally to the right, then angles downwards and to the right, and finally extends horizontally to the right again, ending at a green square containing a white open circle.